

The Cute Bear Adventures: Onward to Stilt Island

Bobo, the cute bear, helped her new friend get to her cave. She said “you look really hurt! Let’s patch you up so can get better.” Once there, she pulled out her first aid box.

There were lots of things that Bobo used for herself for cuts, bruises, and of course, headaches.

“Ouch, that hurts.” said the boy bear as she put a band aid on his last bee sting.

“oh, don’t be such a baby” Bobo replied. “Thank you for your help! My name is Pincho. Nice to meet you!”

“Pincho?” Bobo asked. “That’s a weird name” said Bobo, “but I like it! Where are you from Pincho?”

“I’m from Stilt island! All the bears there are very big but we have skinny legs. See!” Pincho pointed to his legs and Bobo realized he was right; his legs were very skinny even though he was a big bear.

Pincho smiled and asked “would you like to visit my island?”

Bobo replied “yes of course! I haven’t left my home and I’d love to see the world!”

Bobo yelled, “Hooray! Onward to Stilt Island!”