You spoke very clearly but try to make more eye contact with the audience on the left and right side, not just the center. Good job on memorization and very good composition. Keep doing your best. Living in a different country is definitely challenging!

Good emphasis on your intonation and your composition could have been more organized. Judge Anita: You seemed a little too nervous so try and be more confident. Practice more with the "ge" and "sh" sound and you will be great. You have a nice and beautiful voice but try to add more gestures and facial expressions and you will be perfect! You could do better with your memorization as well. Thank you for letting me know the importance of learning English through your story.

Your intonation was the best! Your pronunciation was not so bad. Your volume was also comfortable to listen to! I wanted to see your smiley face and more gestures. You did well but you could do better to memorize your entire speech. Your story was interesting however.

Your intonation was splendid and your pronunciation was getting better during your speech. Your volume was good too and I couldn't help but nod throughout your speech. You were splendid! Nice try on memorizing your whole speech but I understand your situation very well. I wasn't bored at all and wanted to listen to more of your story.

You used lots of breaks and pauses, maybe too much for me.

You had excellent intonation and it was an outstanding speech!

You had good intonation but practice on pronouncing "homogenous." Jeans and t-shirt comment was not needed however.

You seemed a little nervous and if you spoke slower you would be great! You had perfect, beautiful pronunciation. You should speak a little louder and it would have been great! Nice job on your gestures and cute greetings. Nice try memorizing the entire speech and thank you for sharing your thoughts on globalization!

Your intonation was natural and smooth. Your pronunciation was good and you had a good smile. Next time state globalization in different ways, from different perspectives too.

Your intonation was splendid and your pronunciation was great! You had good volume and you were easy to understand. You didn't memorize everything so it was ok. Your thoughts were interesting but it was little bit weak to make people understand.

You seemed very confident!

You looked confident! Good pronunciation! Really good job but you could have spoken louder. I did like your smiley face though. I wanted to see more of your face so look up more often. It was an interesting topic, thank you so much!

Good job on your intonation and perfect job with your pronunciation! It is easy to listen to even though you looked nervous you had good movement. Great job memorizing your speech and thank you for sharing experiences about yourself!

Great speech! Thank you!

Your intonation and pronunciation was native like! You had good facial expressions and a nice ending!

Your intonation was great and pronunciation was perfect! You could speak a little bit louder next time. Also, I wanted to see your smiley face and more gestures. Perfect memorization and I have a Japanese Ghanaian son so it was really interesting, your story.

Wow you didn't look down once! But don't announce being nervous, we know its tough being up there.
